Denim Fridays

Dear Old Farmers Road School Parents,

Did you notice that once a month the staff at OFRS seems to be taken over by denim? But do you know why? I am proud to share with you a practice we have here at school we call Denim Fridays. One Friday a month a charity is selected to donate to. All staff members are encouraged to donate to the charity and in return the dress code is relaxed so they can wear jeans. This school year staff at Old Farmers has (or will) made donations to the following charitable causes.

Go Red National Heart Day American Red Cross
Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer
Doctors Without Borders
Free to Breathe National Lung Cancer Partnership
Homeless Solutions
Outreach to Local Families in Need
Pancreatic Cancer Action Network
Seeing Eye in Morristown

Over the course of the school year, over one thousand dollars is donated by the Old Farmers Staff. It makes me feel good to be a part of a generous school family committed to the greater good. So, the next time you see our staff in jeans on a Denim Friday, you'll know what's really going on.

Sincerely,

Joseph Ciulla

Principal
